To whom it may concern,

For 4 years (from 2012 – 2016) Tanya Kodrasová has been taking care of our family and household at the time that we were living in Prague. Her services included:

- Taking care of my daughter (between 0 and 4 years old) after school during weekdays including picking her up from her school in Nebušice and bringing her to our home in Staroměstka;
- Doing daily shopping and cooking for me and my daughter;
- Cleaning and organizing the apartment, including doing laundry and ironing;
- Taking care of various household affairs: small maintenance, utility management, receiving goods shipments.

I can highly recommend Tanya to provide these services to you, either directly or by managing people providing these services:

- She is an excellent baby-sitter, giving lots of love and warmth to your child and at the same time supporting them with first learning steps in education and moral behaviors. Using her strong intelligence, education, energy and creativity she ensures that your child is learning in a playful way;
- She is very good at multi-tasking and is highly efficient, reliable and flexible. She used to take care of my household, do the cooking and at same time play with my daughter, all in a very smooth and natural way. Impressive!
- Tanya is very good at organizing activities and resolving issues. She works very independently. You can rely on that issues gets resolved and things get done, even before you identified yourself the need to have it resolved.
- She can become part of your family and at the same time has the ability to act on the background, whatever you prefer.

When Tanya was providing these services to us she was also completing her bachelors study in Law within 3 years, while being fully flexible. When my daughter was ill she could be at my house within 30 minutes, at whichever time during the day. This proves she has excellent multi-tasking skills.

I am fully convinced that based on her years of experience in providing these services in various areas of Prague and based on her personal qualities, Tanya is well suit to manage an agency and select and manage capable people providing these services.

If you would like to have any additional information, please do not hesitate to contact me.
